

Professional Bio

K. Venkat Rao is currently working as a Young Professional at the Centre for WTO Studies, IIFT. He holds an LLM in Corporate and Commercial Laws from Damodaram Sanjivayya National Law University. He has previously worked with the CWS and CTIL where he was engaged in research relating to international trade and investment law. He has also done his internship with WWF-India, where he gained experience in research and legal issues relating to environmental matters. His areas of research interest include trade remedies, WTO reforms, international trade law and trade policy.