

Professional Bio

Himanshu is a Young Professional(Legal) at the Centre for WTO Studies, Ministry of Commerce and Industry, where he specialises in trade policy, Digital Trade, and Technical Barriers to Trade(TBT). Prior to joining the Centre, Himanshu worked as a disputes lawyer in litigation chambers, handling appellate litigation and drafting pleadings before the Supreme Court of India, the High Court of Delhi, and various statutory tribunals. He holds an LL.B. from Jindal Global Law School and a B.A.(Hons.) in Global Affairs with a specialisation in Economics and Foreign Policy from Jindal School of International Affairs, where he was awarded the Savitri Jindal Scholarship. He is the co- author of Managing India's Borders(Amazon Kindle Publishing) and a contributor to Reimagining International Legal Order(Routledge Taylor & Francis Group). During his legal studies, he served as President of the Jindal Society of International Law, Editor-in-Chief and Co- Founder of the International Legal Consortium Blog, and as a Student Member at the Centre for Study of the United Nations.